

Will Not Bargain With Nazis

Roosevelt States
There Must Be Will
And Available Power
To Enforce Peace

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt declared tonight that peace can succeed "only where there is a will to enforce it, and where there is available power to enforce it."

The chief executive, in the major foreign policy address of his fourth term campaign, renewed a call for completion "without delay and before hostilities actually cease" of a United Nations organization.

And, he told the Foreign Policy Association, at a dinner at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, the American people already have made up their minds on the great issue of world collaboration for peace.

Following his usual campaign practice, the chief executive refrained from mentioning the name of Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, but there was no mistaking his meaning when he remarked:

"These days—and I am now speaking of October, 1944—I hear voices on the air attacking me for my 'failure' to prepare this nation for this war and to warn the American people of the approaching tragedy."

"These same voices were not so very audible five years ago—or even four years ago—giving warning of the grave peril which we then faced."

No arguing
Mr. Roosevelt asserted that America and her Allies are "entirely agreed that we shall not bargain with the Nazi conspirators," or leave them a shred of open or secret control of instruments of government. Nor, he said, will they be left a single element of military power or potential military power.

German people, he pledged, will not be enslaved, but there will be stern punishment for those in Germany "directly responsible for this agony of mankind."

"Thus, apparently, the chief executive gave his answer to Dewey, who contended in a speech last Wednesday that the administration had no plan for dealing with Germany and that it had resulted in the shedding of American blood."

The President said he was not talking with "rancor or snap judgment," and that he was speaking without losing his temper or head.

He added solemnly that he believed at the end of the last war and still believes now that enduring world peace has no chance unless America cooperates in winning and maintaining it. Words, he said, must be backed with the deed.

Sedalia Marine In Guam

Marines Take Jap Airfield . . . and Souvenirs too—Group of Marines who pushed forward from Agaña, wrecked capital of Guam, and took an airdrop two miles from the city. Twenty-three wrecked Jap bombers and fighters were found at the field which was named Ailaug Field and consisted of many revetment for planes and long landing strip made of coral gravel. Seven mines were found partially installed straight across the main runway but the Japs left too hurriedly to complete their work. This group of Marine line infantrymen paused in their duties to have their picture taken on the front lines before a wrecked Mitsubishi bomber holding a Jap battle flag. In front row: Pfc. Harold P. Brittain, 1408 San Jacinto, Austin, Tex., and Pfc. Irwin R. Duffield, 3818 Texas avenue, St. Louis; back row, Pfc. Lauren E. Williams, 705 East Eleventh street, Sedalia; Sgt. Paul Rice, 5520 South Clarendon avenue, Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Everett W. Hopkins, 2217 Cleveland avenue, Granite City, Ill.; and Cpl. Louis Sinopoli, 1625 Portland avenue, Chicago Heights, Ill. The battle flag was just taken from slain Jap troops. (Official U. S. Marine photo by S/Sgt. Heiberger.)

Pfc. Williams is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Williams, 705 East Eleventh street. In a letter received by his mother, Friday, written on October 13, he stated he had been wounded the day his buddy was killed, but for her not to worry, indicating it was not serious.

Ship Explodes, Five Killed

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The navy announced tonight that at least five men were killed and more than 100 injured, some critically, when a landing vessel was shattered today by an explosion which set fire to three similar craft and spread to a dock.

Two hours after the blast, which occurred at Los Angeles harbor, the fire was still being battled by city firemen and coast guard and naval equipment.

More than a dozen ambulances removed the injured to the Long Beach naval hospital and others in the harbor district. The navy did not disclose the identities of the dead.

New Pastor Next Sunday

Dr. T. W. Croxton, who on Sunday, October 29, will assume the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Sedalia, has resigned as the First Baptist church of Monticello, Ark., and the Arkansas Gazette and Advance Monticellonian carried very complimentary articles on his work there.

The church in Monticello, it states, has grown steadily and much progress has been made under his guidance. He paid off the indebtedness, erected a brick educational building and repairs and decorations have been made on the church itself.

He and his wife have been civic leaders during their residence in that city. He has served as president of the Lions club. Mrs. Croxton has held offices in the Sorosis and music clubs and has been pianist at the church.

"They are greatly beloved in Monticello both by their congregation and the other denominations of the city and it is with sincere regret that their friends see them leave Monticello, but they go with good wishes for their continued success."

Lieut. Wesner Is Reported To Be Missing

Bombardier On B-24 In Raid Over Austria October 7

Lieut. Robert L. Wesner, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Wesner, 800 West Seventh street, has been missing since a raid over Austria, October 7, according to a telegram received by his parents Saturday from the War Department.

Lieut. Wesner, a bombardier on a B-24 plane, has been stationed in Italy. The last letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Wesner from him was dated October 4. He wrote interestingly of his activities and of the country. He referred to his father's recent birthday, stating he regretted he was unable to send him a gift then, but he would go to Rome or Cairo soon and buy a gift there for him.

He was graduated by the Army Air Corps and commissioned, and received his wings at Kirtland Field, New Mexico, and went overseas in August.

He stepped through a rotten board while playing and fell 15 feet into three feet of water in the well, less than 100 feet from his Missouri riverfront home. Nearly 100 neighbors and townspeople joined a search for him before a police officer discovered the body.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloomer, became alarmed and notified police when they were unable to find the child at supper time. The boy was the youngest of the Bloomers' 12 children.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The body of four-year-old Bob by Glen Bloomer was fished from an old well tonight three hours after the youngster was reported missing from his home.

He stepped through a rotten board while playing and fell 15 feet into three feet of water in the well, less than 100 feet from his Missouri riverfront home. Nearly 100 neighbors and townspeople joined a search for him before a police officer discovered the body.

Seven separate investigations to determine the cause of the tragedy were initiated but officials reported no progress.

"Multiple investigations have not produced as yet a single clue as to the probable cause of the first blast," Coroner Samuel R. Gerber reported.

Sedalia Boys Meet In Belgium

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Martin, 2101 East Twelfth street, recently received a letter from their son, Sgt. Walter W. Martin, who is somewhere in Belgium, in which he told of going to the post office one morning and meeting Victor Bockelman from Sedalia. He said he spent about a half an hour with him.

Sgt. Martin has been overseas about seven months and this is the first boy he has met from home.

Nazis U-Boats In Atlantic

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Some German U-boats are once more operating along the Atlantic sea lanes to Britain in a resurgence of submarine warfare, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander disclosed today.

The British navy chief also declared that a British battleship capable of tackling the entire Japanese navy had started toward the Pacific, elaborating an earlier announcement by Prime Minister Churchill that "a large portion" of such a fleet already was gathered in the Indian ocean.

Alexander disclosed the new submarine menace in reporting arrival in Britain from North America of the largest convoy in history, without loss. The convoy was composed of 167 ships, covered an area of nearly 26 square miles and carried more than one million tons of food and war equipment.

Only one "very cautious" U-boat was reported near the convoy and the admiralty does not fear greatly any attempt by the enemy to send submarines in strength back to undersea raids, Alexander said. But he added bluntly that, although "super-optimists" had called the war against U-boats won, "they were wrong."

Death Toll at Eighty-Eight

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—(AP)—As the death toll in Cleveland's greatest fire soared to at least 88 tonight, the cause of mysterious blasts which converted the East Ohio Gas company's liquid gas tanks into giant lethal flame throwers apparently was locked in smoldering ruins.

Officials said 248 persons who worked or lived in the vicinity of the blasts still were missing while 165 injured were confined to hospitals. Nearly 100 others were treated for minor injuries at hospitals and released. Investigators said many of the missing were expected to be located at homes of friends and relatives.

Fear that fatalities might reach 200 was expressed by Chairman Stanley Orr of the Cleveland Red Cross unit.

Seven separate investigations to determine the cause of the tragedy were initiated but officials reported no progress.

"Multiple investigations have not produced as yet a single clue as to the probable cause of the first blast," Coroner Samuel R. Gerber reported.

Receives Word of Sister Interned

Mrs. Charles H. Bard, 209 East Broadway, has received word of her sister, Mrs. Richard Carman and her husband, a retired army officer, who are interned in the Philippines, through Mrs. Elizabeth C. Hume of New Haven, Conn., who recently returned from that country on the Gripsholm, Mrs. Carman is the former Miss Edna Mertz. They were missing their home in the Philippines, at Manila, when war was declared, and they have since been interned. The letter, received by Mrs. Bard, was written from Connecticut on October 17, and reads in part:

"I had the pleasure of knowing both Mr. and Mrs. Carman and saw them quite frequently. They had built for themselves a small shack in the Santo Thomas university grounds, as did many other people, made of bamboo and woven matting. It enabled them to have a semblance of home life during the day. They had a small native stove and were able to cook their own meal on it, and to have a place in which to eat the two meals provided by the camp.

Cheerless Camp
"The camp sheds under which most of the internees ate were rather forlorn and cheerless. Mrs. Carman was able to have brought into camp a good many articles from The Home Shop and had no difficulty in disposing of them, partly because she stuck to pre-war prices, instead of the 'inflationed prices." (Please turn to Page 4, Column 1)

Yanks in Possession Large German City; Canadians Advance to Clear Way to Port

By HOWARD COWAN

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The last Germans in Aachen formally surrendered today to the Americans at noon today, while to the northwest the Canadian First army with British aid advanced nine miles in the Dutch-Belgian border region in a drive to clear the Scheldt estuary so the Allies can use the great port of Antwerp. American troops near the German border in the Netherlands advanced within 4,000 yards of an unidentified hub near the Maas (Meuse) river, and the British consolidated their positions south-east of Venray in secondary actions in this important sector.

Elsewhere no significant progress was reported in the badly sodden front. Direct air support was cut by rain to a minimum.

The final surrender of Aachen, first large German city to fall into Allied hands, was made by 800 Germans who violated Adolf Hitler's "fight-to-the-death" orders after being hammered into traps from which there was no escape from Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' savagely-attacking First army doughboys.

It was the first formal surrender of German arms on German soil in modern history. Tonight the German homefolks still had not been told of it by their propaganda ministry.

Unofficial estimates of the bag of prisoners ranged upward to 10,000 since the Americans issued their unconditional surrender ultimatum to Aachen ten days ago. American casualties during the subsequent all-out assault and house-to-house rooting out of the stubborn Nazis were declared officially to be relatively light.

The German colonel, a professional soldier named Ferhardt Wilck, made a theatrical show of his capitulation, marching his men out in perfect order in their best uniforms and with highly polished boots. He first signed a paper omitting the unconditional surrender requirement. This the Americans refused to accept.

Colonel Wilck, after some soul-searching, drew up and signed a new document of unconditional surrender, which he blamed on lack of ammunition and food. He explained that he had hesitated for fear of reprisals against his family in Germany because he was disobeying his Fuehrer's express orders to die on the spot. Later in a prisoner enclosure he wept without restraint.

Surrender of the rubble heap that is Aachen, leaving the Americans free to prosecute a drive towards Cologne, 40 miles away, was, for all its drama, strategically less significant than the new Canadian assault to open the Scheldt estuary to Allied supply ships.

Canadians Gave Nine Miles
In an offensive which field dispatches said gained nine miles in the first 36 hours across wooded country, two Canadian columns threw bridges across the Roosen-daal canal near the Dutch-Belgian border 14 miles north of Antwerp.

A British column under Canadian command kept pace by thrusting through the road junction town of Wuestwezel and four miles beyond it to the Dutch border 17 miles northwest of Antwerp. The Canadians and British forned a solid front.

These advances strengthened the positions of other Canadians at the neck of the south Beveland causeway leading to the north bank of the Scheldt estuary.

The Germans on the south bank of the Scheldt estuary were being steadily compressed into a smaller pocket.

Russians are From 10 to 18 Miles Inside Pre-war Germany

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Russian and Romanian troops swept across the Tisza river only 50 miles southeast of Budapest today and also reached the Danube river 87 miles south of the Hungarian capital in an outflanking drive aimed at crossing that waterway into the western half of the tottering Axis country.

Moscow's communique announced the capture of 140 Budapest towns and villages. A Bucharest bulletin said Romanian and Red army troops were fighting the Germans in fierce battles west of the Tisza near Szolnok, 50 miles from Budapest.

Other Soviet units were bearing down on the capital at points between Szolnok and Baja, Moscow said.

Berlin in a late night broadcast said that Russian troops invading German East Prussia had reached the Goldap-Gumbinnen highway at one point in battles "which surpass anything previously seen on the eastern front."

This would place the Russians from 10 to 18 miles inside pre-war Germany, and other Nazi broadcasts said the Soviets had widened their invasion front to 100 miles on the eastern and northeastern sides of East Prussia.

Edgar Holland, former automobile dealer in Sedalia, now a farmer residing seven miles northwest of LaMonte, will go on trial in the Pettis county circuit court Monday on a charge of first degree murder. Holland is accused of the murder of his wife Molly Mattie Holland, 36, identified as one of two women whose headless bodies were found in the Lake of the Ozarks near the Camden-ton, Mo., April 16 and 17.

The body identified as that of Mrs. Holland, was found on Monday April 17, about 200 yards down the lake from the spot where a first body, identified as her mother, Mrs. Pearl Fairfax, 39, was found on Sunday April 16. They were found in the waters of the lake at the banks edge, near the dead end of Lake Road No. 15, a short distance from the Grand Glaize bridge.

The trial is to be before Judge Robert D. Johnson of Marshall, judge of the fifteenth circuit, replacing Judge Dimmitt Hoffman who disqualified himself. Judge W. M. Dinwiddie, of Columbia, heard the motion for continuance on October 13, which he overruled but was unable to sit in the trial due to a heavy docket in his own circuit.

A Long Trial Expected
Holland is represented by Fred F. Wesner, while the state is represented by Prosecuting Attorney Leo J. Harned and Corvett R. Hewitt, assistant attorney general of the state of Missouri, who is assisting Mr. Harned.

It is the opinion of attorneys in the trial it will take at least a week to hear all of the evidence which is expected to be introduced. More than sixty persons have been subpoenaed.

The court will convene at 9 o'clock Monday morning at which time the task of selecting a jury will begin. Of the twenty-four regular panel, six have been previously excused from jury service, and an order from the court was given Sheriff C. Ross Bothwell (Please turn to Page 4, Column 2)

Must Pay for Bataan Tortures; Last Nazis In Aachen Surrender

By MURLIN SPENCER

GEN. MAC ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Sunday, Oct. 22.—(AP)—American invasion forces on Leyte in the central Philippines, penetrating four miles inland along an 18 mile front, have captured two airfields, the capital city of Tacloban, the town of Dulague and won control of a straight leading to inland seas of the archipelago, headquarters announced today.

The airfields, first to fall into Yank hands as potential bases from which army planes can expand the air coverage now provided by carrier aircraft, were overrun near Tacloban and Dulague.

Success on success was scored by the largest invasion army yet massed in the Pacific ocean areas. Gen. Douglas MacArthur solemnly warned the Japanese government and military leaders they would be held accountable for the tortures at Bataan in 1942 and for any repetitions against either soldiers or civilians.

Referring to "unimpeachable evidence" of degradations at Bataan "and even of brutality," the general said:

"For such violations, the imperial Japanese government will, of course, be fully responsible to my government."

"As commander-in-chief of the Allied forces in the field, I shall in addition, during the conduct of the present campaign, hold the Japanese military authorities in the Philippines immediately liable for any harm which may result from failure to accord prisoners of war, civilian internees and civilian non-combatants the proper treatment and due protection to which they of right are entitled."

The first cavalry division which overran Tacloban airtfield the first day of fighting surged into Tacloban itself last night. The capture of Tacloban gave the Americans control of San Juanico Strait between Leyte and the island of Samar.

Both the airtfield and the capital city were abandoned by the Japanese.

Elements of the 96th division captured Dulague, 20 miles south of Tacloban yesterday without difficulty, then beat off Japanese tanks before beginning a drive up the Leyte valley.

Headquarters said the Japanese airforce has made more scattered attacks against some vessels of the 600-ship convoy which brought the massive force from Dutch New Guinea to the invasion scene.

Because of effective attacks by carrier planes of the Seventh fleet on enemy airtfields in the Visayan and Palawan Island, the Japanese air efforts against shipping in Pedro Bay were restricted to sporadic sneak attacks.

The victories in the Tacloban area placed the Yanks on the west shore of a strait leading to the Philippines Island sea.

Beat Off Jap Tanks
The captors of Dulague, part of the 24th corps, were forced to beat off a spirited Japanese tank and infiltration counterattack before resuming their push beyond that town. Six light enemy tanks spearheaded Japanese artillery and infantry in blows aimed at the advancing columns. American armor suffered some damage before the foe was driven from gun positions and entrenchments they had reoccupied.

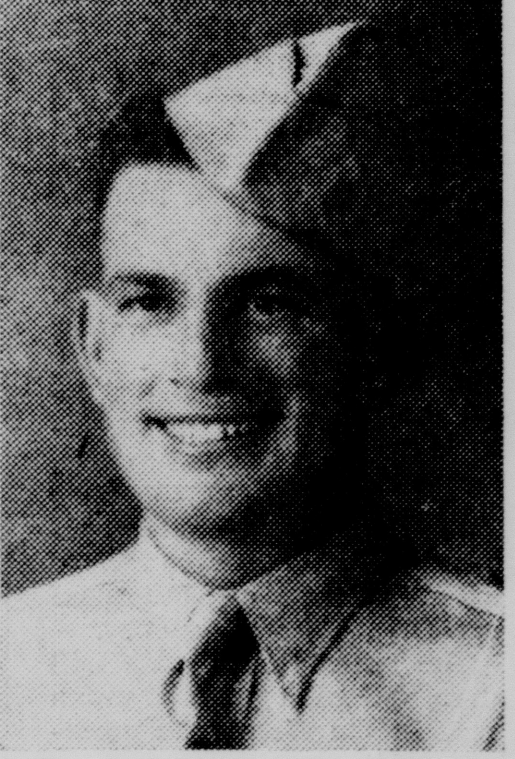

The new successes announced came after strong enemy positions, which included concrete pillboxes and prepared artillery positions, which included concrete pillboxes and prepared artillery positions were eliminated by infiltration to avoid the more costly frontal assaults.

A short distance south of Tacloban, at Palo, where Fred Hampson, Associated Press war correspondent earlier reported the Japanese put up heavy mortar fire resistance against landings, the going still was tough.

Yesterday artillery and dive-bombers supported the 24th division's uphill struggle to deepen the wedge in that sector. Dive bombers attacked 20 truck loads of Japanese.

Merry-go-round

. . . by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Roosevelt made an important revelation to Italo-American publisher Generoso Pope, the other day, when he disclosed that in 1933 he had written a letter to Mussolini urging him not to engage in a heavy armament race which might plunge the world into war.

"Some day I'll show you the letter," Roosevelt told Pope. "It was the first year I was in the White House and just as Mussolini was beginning to prepare for war with Ethiopia two years later. If Mussolini had taken my advice and kept away from his war machine and Hitler, Italy would not be in the tragic situation she is today."

The president also asked Pope many detailed questions about various sections behind the lines in Italy, especially in regard to how the Italian population in these areas would receive American troops, and what co-operation they would give in rising up against the Nazis.

"I don't think I can tell you much about it," Pope finally replied, after several of these questions. "You see, I left Italy when I was only eight years old. But how do you know all about these Italian towns and villages?"

The president replied that when he was a boy his father had taken him to Italy to live for a while and he had learned to read Italian and even speak it a bit. The president approved a proposal to permit Americans of Italian descent to send Christmas packages to their friends and relatives in Italy, and also told Pope about the progress of other relief measures, including the dispatch of several shiploads of food and supplies for Italy.

Wagner Fights For His Post

Side-tracked by the heat and name-calling of the presidential campaign, one of the most important senatorial races in the nation has been lost sight of. It is the valiant up-hill battle of Senator Robert Wagner, father of more social legislation than any other man in American history, to keep his seat.

Most significant of all is the failure of the liberal New York City American Federation of Labor to give any hearty support to the man who authored and pushed through the Senate the Magna Charta of American Labor.

Inside reason for this is the fact that the CIO was first in going to bat for Wagner with a strong endorsement. Following this, the local New York City AFL played cagey, indicated that Wagner was the CIO candidate. This was not true of AFL President Bill Green, who gave Wagner a hearty endorsement.

But in New York, where votes count, it made no difference that Wagner had benefited all labor with his Social Security Act, his Slum Clearance and Low-Rent Housing Act, his Employment Exchange Act, his Home Owners' Loan Corporation Act, his Railroad Retirement Act, his Home Financing Act, and his National Labor Relations Act. It also made no difference that his GOP opponent, Tom Curran, had no labor record to speak of. Despite this, local New York AFL leaders, sore at the CIO, have actually been aloof. After 17 years in Congress, Wagner was not at all enthusiastic about running again. But like another Grand Old Man of the Senate, the late George Norris of Nebraska, he was persuaded and cajoled into it. So far he has spent most of his time campaigning for the president, unselfishly paying little attention to his own race.

Then suddenly he woke up to find that much of the Irish vote was leaving him for GOP Candidate Curran. Now Wagner has taken off the gloves and has begun battling in real earnest. Other AFL leaders outside New York City are boiling mad, have wired in their support from all over the state.

It will be a battle which his senatorial colleagues will watch carefully. They are wondering whether they will get the same pay-off in return for their support of labor legislation.

Wagner Awake To Nazis

Born in Germany, Bob Wagner has been a living testimonial to the miracle of America, where a poor immigrant boy can rise to the highest councils in the land. Long before others in the Senate were awake to the danger of Hitler, Wagner was leading a campaign against Nazism.

At the 1940 Democratic convention, even after war broke, there was a debate inside the platform committee as to whether "totalitarian aggressors" should be called by name. Senator Walsh of Massachusetts opposed.

"I think we ought to realize that there are many naturalized Americans from these two countries (Germany and Italy) who have strong feelings for them and will be offended," opined Walsh. Wagner, however, wanted to name Hitler specifically.

"How would you name him?" asked another senator.

"As far as I am concerned,"

FCC Fly Spreads Wings

Fortnight Chairman Larry Fly of the Federal Communications Commission was listening to testimony by New York lawyer Joe Weiner, former OPA official, regarding a new subscription radio service.

Weiner proposed an FM radio service with no support from advertisers. Instead of commercial plugs, listeners would pay a small charge—estimated at five cents a day—to subscribe to this special service. A patented device to eliminate noise would be given each subscriber. Without this device a non-subscriber attempting to tune in the service would get noise, not news.

Behind the idea is William Benton, former president of ad agency Benton & Bowles, now chairman of Encyclopedia Britannica. With him will be Weiner, Taxman Beardsley Ruml and OPA head Chet Bowles.

Suddenly as Weiner began to testify, Chairman Fly got up and left the room. This is the tip-off on Fly's new job. He is planning to join the Benton firm, and doesn't want it charged that he used his government position to enable the new subscription service to get approval for frequencies.

Big question is: Who will succeed Fly in about the most thankless job in Washington? Logical successor is straight-thinking FCC Commissioner Cliff Durr, who has won universal respect.

Paul Porter, now public relations chief of the Democratic National committee, could probably get Fly's job but doesn't want it. Likewise Captain Krug of the War Production Board. Durr has made no overtures, but the betting is strong he will be next chairman of the FCC.

NOTE—Fly is expected to announce his resignation shortly after election.

The third of a series of symphony concerts presented by the Sedalia Army Air Field Symphony Orchestra will be given at the Base Theatre Thursday evening, October 26, at 8 o'clock. Thomas E. Wilson, W/O in charge of the SAAF band, will conduct the orchestra, while Miss Rosemary Malocsa, of the Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra, will be the guest soloist.

Miss Malocsa, a native of Miami, Oklahoma, first studied the violin under Tosca Berger in Tulsa. She is now a junior at the Kansas City Conservatory and studies with Mr. Forrest Schulz. The program for the evening will include the following selections: The Oberon Overture by von Weber, Symphony Espagnole by Lalo, a violin solo by Miss Malocsa, Symphony No. 1 in G Minor by Dr. Labunski, Tales of the Vienna Woods by Strauss, Slavonic Dance No. 1 by Dvorak, and Mozart's Symphony in G Minor.

The program will be dedicated to Dr. Wiktor Labunski, composer of the above-mentioned modern composition, and to his distinguished faculty at the conservatory. Dr. Labunski is a noted Polish-American composer, pianist, and conductor, and is director of the Kansas City conservatory. The orchestra will play two move-

Two of the selections to be presented in Thursday's musical program are request numbers. At each concert, the audience is asked to list request numbers on a slip of paper and turn it in at the door. The orchestra will try to play as many request numbers as possible during future concerts.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, Republican candidate for vice-president, is to spend one-half hour in Sedalia next Thursday, the 27th, and will deliver a speech while here. He is a nephew of Mrs. Clark Ritchie, 122 East Seventh street.

The Democrat yesterday received a letter from G. B. Hoyer, of the Hoyer Directory Co., of Kansas City in which he gives the present population of Sedalia as 21,405. Last year's population was 18,015.

Forty dollars were taken in at the oyster supper at High Point school house Friday night, and $24 were left for the library after all expenses had been paid.

Dr. M. T. Collins has purchased an X-ray and high frequency apparatus costing $1,000. The doctor, while in New York city this summer taking a post-graduate course, became interested in X-ray work, hence the purchase.

The Knob Noster high school football team defeated the Central high school team of LaMonte Friday by a score of 21 to 0.

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz Copyright, 1944 by Sigrid Schultz Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

XIX

EARLY in World War II it was quite common to hear women who had been anti-Nazi say that, "in view of these victories, I can see now that we had to go through the Nazi regime to acquire the greatness that belongs to us."

How will such women react after the German victories have become merely a memory? Many of them will be disillusioned. But not with Nazism—only with its failure. They will be eager advocates of the next cult that promises them success. They will be bitter. But not at themselves, for making Nazism possible—only that once more the "conspiracy" against Germany has given the Germans another "setback."

And, they will be convinced, the next time it will work. Germany will win her rightful place as master of the world. Then it won't matter what we think of them. They know that still greater plans are being worked out for the future, plans for German domination, if not to be won by open war, then by hidden war.

The young German women who have been brought up in the Nazi creed, the older women who spent 20 years preparing for the second World War will not give up the fight. Besides their own determination, they have years of indoctrination and schooling behind them in special courses conducted by the Propaganda Ministry, the War Office, the Labor Front, the Gestapo, the Association of Germans Living Abroad, Alfred Rosenberg's school for hyphenated and other Germans, the Colonial Schools of General von Epp; schools directed by the various women's organizations, in the cultural groups, in university classes.

Groups of Amazons have been graduated from athletic academies, from art schools, and from business academies. For athletes and artists are supposed to be non-political, and a woman in business does not yet arouse the suspicion that a man might. Whatever her specialty, each Amazon has been trained to organize other women and men.

The experienced women who may have become too well known to foreigners through past activity, or who are beginning to fade, coach the young sisters. Sometimes they are withdrawn into innocent-seeming commercial enterprises—with foreign connections.

By far the most dexterous graduate "representative" who ever worked for the Nazis was the petite, gentle, blond Edit von Coler, Himmler's cousin and an intimate friend of Prince Aulwi, the Kaiser's son. Edit was undoubtedly as close to the secret general staff as any woman.

After a series of jobs in various Nazi organizations and ministries, Edit von Coler was sent to Bucharest as a journalist, although she knew no Romanian. Through a propaganda minister in Bucharest, Edit launched into business in a big way. She was perfectly willing to let the minister use his friendship with her as Himmler's cousin to cloak his mixed ancestry (he was partly Jewish); he made it possible for her to reach into every circle and align all the elements that could be useful to Germany. She succeeded in bringing together a great number of foreign and part-German women whom she trained as expert Nazi agents against the time of her own departure. They worked in Romania and radiated all over the Balkans; they went to Turkey, to Iran, to North Africa, even to South America.

Romanian patriots discovered the Nazi plot to convert Romania into a German vassal and tried to assassinate Edit. Even had they done so, it would have been too late. Edit von Coler had already welded together all the forces that could be used to prepare German rule. She escaped the country, taking with her fabulous gifts of jewelry and furs.

Edit had now become too well known, however, for another foreign assignment. She received an executive post in an insurance company specializing in deals with South America and Spain. There is not the slightest doubt that this gifted woman was one of the key workers mobilized in 1940 for the war within a war.

AS foreigners begin again to visit Germany, it will be arranged that they meet women trained by Edit von Coler and her like, women especially picked out to appeal to the tabulated preferences of prominent men from every country.

Synthetic or natural blonds have always been on tap for the pleasure and proselytizing of Latins or Balkanites. On Mussolini's first trip to Germany, for instance, whole trainloads of movie actresses were conveyed to Munich for his triumphal reception, then whisked back to Berlin under supervision of propaganda officials to work on the Italians at the festivities in the capital.

But the bigger job, because of its wider scope, has been the preparation of thousands of attractive women to win the hearts and sympathy of the foreign soldiers expected to invade the European continent. The French poilu is not likely to forget the thin invasion of his homeland, the calculated theft of almost all food from fertile France. But the British and United States soldiers, who are characterized by kindness and chivalry and whose countries have not suffered bodily invasion—they are the targets at which the Amazons will aim.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

Some people get much quicker and better results from chiropractic than others, why is this so? There are several reasons. Healing is brought about by a restoration of normal nerve supply and any condition in the body which creates abnormal reflexes by irritating the tissues will retard one's progress.

Due to lack of exercise the muscles may be weak and flabby allowing the abdominal organs to sag thereby stretching the nerves and irritating the tissues will retard one's progress.

Until normal tone is restored it handicaps recovery. Tumors, even though small and relatively harmless, cause pressure on adjacent tissue and irritating reflexes. Past inflammatory ailments may have caused adhesions and these produce a pulling on adjacent tissue which irritates the nerves and produces injurious reflexes. Past operations may be the cause of adhesions which continue to interfere with normal nerve function. Injuries, falls, sprains, exposure, shock and one's mental attitude all injure brain and cord cells. After brain and cord cells are once injured they never function normally again. After injuries, sickness, operations and all conditions which have irritated the nervous system one is NEVER the same as he was before consequently one will not respond to any kind of treatment as a more normal person would, they will respond only to the extent their previously injured nervous system is capable of responding. Chiropractic will accomplish as much as possible.

News Excites Mrs. Wainwright

SKANEATELES, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(P)—Mrs. Jonathan Wainwright, wife of the U. S. Lieutenant General on Bataan, said Friday "I am so excited I don't know what to do" over the news of the American invasion of the Philippines.

Mrs. Wainwright, who left the Philippines in May, 1941, on "about the last ship," said she last heard four weeks ago from her husband, now in a Japanese prison camp. She added that the letter "was written in February. There was no address on any letter. There have been only seven in two and one-half years. The longest was 40 words—printed."

In area, France equals Texas without the Panhandle. Her pre-war population (42,000,000) was nearly seven times that of the Lone Star State, but less than England's or Italy's and far below that of Germany. More than half of all Frenchmen were farmers or fishermen living in small villages.

She had very lovely luncheon sets, handwoven goods from Baguio, handbags, etc. Her contribution to camp life was given in the sewing unit to which she went every morning except Sunday. Whenever she had goods for sale, people went to her shack to buy, so her afternoons were often very full. She sang in the church choir and often sang duets with Mrs. Foley, wife of the minister of Union church.

"When I left, Mr. and Mrs. Carman had been able to secure money with which to buy extra food to supplement the camp's meals. Filipino vendors were allowed to come in three hours each morning and sold fruit, vegetables, eggs, peanuts, rice bread and cookies were also obtainable. Everyone in camp lost weight, but I thought Mrs. Carman was looking quite well when I left, though I was not in a position to judge because I had not met her before internment. We were in the Philippines only four days before war broke out.

All Had Duties

"Men and women were housed in separate rooms. Mrs. Carman had space in a room on the first floor, while her husband was on the third floor, as I remember it, but they were able to be together during the day.

"The days in camp were very full—everyone had his or her camp duty; in addition we took care of our rooms space, the halls outside the rooms; took turns scrubbing the bathrooms, stood in lines many hours for food, for purchasing, for washing of dishes, for library service. There were classes of all kinds one could attend—concerts, entertainments, sports, lectures. Time did not hang heavily upon our hands at all. What is happening in camp just at the moment it is hard to say. Most internees had stored up rice, beans, lentils, canned goods, etc., against a day when there would be fighting again in the islands and food might be scarce.

"The spirit of the 3,800 internees in Santo Tomas was very courageous and fine when I left. If you have any specific questions will you write and tell me? I am sorry this is such a hurried letter.

Yours Sincerely,

A Sentence Is Set Aside

Raymond Reginald Hellums, who was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary on a charge of grand larceny of a suit case from a Missouri Pacific train several weeks ago, has been released. Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned, stated Saturday that after he had investigated the case, he found that Hellums was a victim of circumstances and wasn't guilty.

After the investigation he took Hellums before Judge Dimmitt Hoffman in circuit court and told of his findings at which time the court set aside the sentence of two years.

Hellums was arrested with Barbara Osborne and Vic Osborne in connection with taking a suit case belonging to the widow of a lieutenant in the U. S. army air forces, killed overseas. He admitted taking the suitcase from a rack and turning it over to the woman.

Hellums said he was threatened by Osborne and his wife if he didn't take the "rap" for the robbery. However, Osborne later pleaded guilty and was given two years, and his wife pleaded guilty to petit larceny and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Holland Trial In Circuit Court Monday

last week to subpoena forty additional men.

May Call More For Jury

Of the fifty-eight who are to be called, thirty must qualify for jury service from which number twelve will be selected to hear the case. It was indicated additional men may have to be called as it is the belief a large number of those subpoenaed will not qualify to sit in the case. It is believed it will take the greater part of the first day to qualify the jury, and it may extend over part of Tuesday.

Under the first degree murder charge Holland can either be dismissed, sentenced to life imprisonment, or given the death sentence. If the court so sees the case should not be first degree he can give, in his instructions to the jury, an order on second degree which if done, Holland can either be acquitted, or sentenced from ten years to life imprisonment.

It was Saturday May 13, that Jesse Fairfax, stepson of Mrs. Fairfax requested an investigation to determine the whereabouts of his stepmother, from whom he had not heard since the middle of April. State highway patrol troopers began investigations on Sunday May 14, with the result identifications were made of the two bodies.

Bodies In Columbia

Relatives and friends, who had not heard from either of the women, went to Columbia where they viewed the bodies, which were kept at the University of Missouri morgue. Doctors described various marks noted on the bodies of Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Fairfax, when they had made examinations, and through these and finger prints, identifications were announced by the state patrol.

Extensive investigations at the Holland farm were conducted by the patrol, many persons have been questioned, and Holland himself underwent a week of questioning by state troopers, while he was detained at troop headquarters in Jefferson City.

Holland throughout has maintained the body identified as his wife, is not her. Last May he insisted that he was of the belief that she had gone on a visit to Texas, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fairfax had probably gone to Florida to visit relatives. He said he was not alarmed at their absence, because they had left home on previous occasions to visit with relatives at a distance. He told of going to Texas one time to get his wife to return home.

Holland On Bond

At present Holland is at liberty under a $15,000 bond which was signed by friends, neighbors, and relatives living in the vicinity of the Holland farm. He was released after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. M. Hadlan the last of June. It was several days before the bond was completed, but Holland was not in jail but a few days after his preliminary was completed, after which Judge Harlan, bound the defendant over to the October term of criminal court and set his bond at $15,000.

The motion for continuance was taken before the court by Prosecuting Attorney Harned, who declared that the state could not proceed to trial without a witness in Texas, whose name the attorney's did not know at that time. After hearing the motion, Judge Dinwiddie over ruled the request and ordered the case to trial on Monday October 23.

Historical Society Has Reception

Formal Opening At Court House, 450 Persons Attend

The formal opening of the Pettis County Historical Society was held at the Pettis county court house Friday evening, at which time two outstanding speakers were presented. Mrs. May Kennedy McCord, radio artist and writer, of St. Louis and Edgar Shook, attorney, and president of the Kansas City Historical Society.

A concert was given by the Smith-Cotton high school band before the program. The band was under the direction of Miss Geraldine Teufel and was located between the two stairways on the first floor corridor of the court house just back of the stage which had been built for the occasion. Baskets of chrysanthemums and ornamental grasses formed a beautiful setting for the program, with autumn leaves twined around the banisters of the stairways. Baskets of flowers and grasses were placed at about the corridor and at the entrance was a horn of plenty on one side, from out of which extended marigolds, and on the other side a copper kettle overflowing with fruits of the harvest season.

President Opens Meeting

The meeting was opened by the president, J. L. Curry, presiding who introduced Mrs. Frank S. Leach, presented Mayor A. H. Wilks, who spoke briefly on the historical society and its value. Mr. Curry gave a short history of the society, of its beginning with only twelve members and its growth to a membership of six hundred. The first trophy case given the society was by the American Legion and the society now has twenty-one cases with eight more being made. Mr. Curry told of the plans the society is making for the future.

D. S. Lamm, introduced Mr. Shook, a friend for many years. Mr. Shook was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lamm while in the city.

Edgar Shook Speaker
"I was surprised to see the progress made by this society in such a short time," Mr. Shook said. He told of the Kansas City Historical society which has its museum in the home of the late R. A. Long on Gladstone boulevard. He made many suggestions that the Kansas City society had found helpful and which he thought might also be of value to the Pettis county society.

Charles E. Campbell, to whom the boys turned over their knife and razor at the football game at Liberty Park, was dismissed after he was questioned by the officers. Price and Clements, dressed in "formal zoot suits" strolled in and around the depot, just before Price approached the ticket office.

Price after leaving the inside of the depot went to a large window in front of the station and smashed it with his fist, receiving a laceration on the little finger of the left hand.

C. Weiteman In Trouble in Kansas City

Calmly Smoked in Home While Dodging Police

Charles Marion Weiteman, 24, former Sedalian, well known to local police, was arrested about 2:30 o'clock Friday morning, while using the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verne P. Riggs, 3011 Oak street, Kansas City, as a hide out from police. He had entered the home to await the "let up" of the police who were "looking the neighborhood over," and was sitting in their front room smoking a cigarette, when discovered by Mr. Riggs.

"I smell smoke," Mrs. Riggs called to her husband across the hall in an upstairs bedroom. Neither Mrs. Riggs, Mr. Riggs nor anyone in the house smoked, so the smell alarmed Mrs. Riggs.

Mr. Riggs, a mail carrier, decided he probably had better have a sniff for himself and went to investigate, after his wife had told him it was impossible for the smoke to come from a neighbors home.

Tobacco smoke came from downstairs, so he went down. Armed Man in Living Room

Arising from a velvet overstuffed chair, with ten or twelve cigarette butts on the rug beside it, was a man with a revolver. Its long barrel pointed at the astonished Riggs.

"Be still," said the hatless young man behind the revolver, quietly. "Stand where you are and you won't get hurt."

"What's going on?" demanded Riggs.

"No trouble for you," said the gunman. "I haven't robbed you and I'm not going to. When the police cool off a bit I'll leave."

"I hoped you wouldn't wake up," the man said. "You shouldn't leave the back door unlocked. It was handy for me. I had some trouble up at the tavern and hit somebody on the head with this gun. The police were called and I came in here to hide until they go."

"A young fellow like you ought to be in the army," Riggs said, and asked if he might sit down. The man didn't object and Riggs walked to a Windsor type wood arm chair. He seized both arms firmly and whirled around, raising the chair with legs toward the gun.

"You can't stay here," Riggs told the man. "My family's getting excited."

Compelled To Lower Chair
"Put that down," the man said, and pushed the muzzle of the revolver against the bib of the overalls Riggs had slipped into when he got out of bed. The man with the revolver pushed hard and Riggs saw the trigger was cocked. He put the chair down, observing the man was a "deadly cool customer."

He ordered Riggs to go upstairs, and kept the gun pointed toward him while making a quick look at the beds off the second floor hall. He drew back the covers of the bed Mrs. Riggs had occupied, and saw that Aloha Joy lay there. She was awake, but Zenda slept on in her crib bed near-by.

"If your wife is calling the police I'll kill her," the man threatened. He walked toward a window in the bedroom of Wanda Sue, who was away at work.

Gets His Hand On Weapon
The father decided then that the critical situation could not continue. He knew Mrs. Riggs had gone to telephone. As the man turned from the third floor bedroom the revolver for a moment was pointed away from Riggs, who seized his opportunity. With a quick thrust he got his hands on the weapon, wrestled with the man and got it away from him. Riggs was the heavier man and by now was "seeing red."

"The fellow put his hands up only part way, and stood on his toes as if he was ready to lunge," he said. "I told him I didn't want to hurt him, but if he made another move I'd shoot. He saw I meant it. I called to the children to stay back; I was afraid they'd get hurt. My family is all I've got, and I'm proud of them."

At this moment the police arrived and took over.

Weiteman was identified at police headquarters. He has a record of having served terms in Alagoa Farms, the Missouri penitentiary and also sentences in the Pettis County jail. He was sentenced to prison from Sedalia for holding up a member of the American Legion during their convention in Sedalia in 1941, and was released from prison March 18, 1942.

He escaped from Alagoa Farms, and was captured and served out his sentence in the prison, being transferred from the Farms. He got ninety-days on a petit larceny charge and served the sentence in the Pettis county jail.

Weiteman was believed to have been the holdup man who robbed Mrs. Margaret A. Evans, night clerk at the Montrose hotel, 10 East Fortieth street, Kansas City, and Carman Corvino, hotel manager, getting $15 from Corvino and $10 from Mrs. Evans.

He is being held by the Kansas City police for further investigation, according to word received by the Sedalia police Saturday evening.

Board Meets To Discuss Ticket Sales

Symphony Society Makes Plan for Concert Season

The Sedalia Symphony Society board met Saturday afternoon in the office of the president, H. E. Lindstrom, to discuss ticket sales and artist bookings for the 1944-'45 concert season of the orchestra, of which Abe Rosenthal is conductor.

It was requested that all persons selling tickets make a record of the ticket numbers and the purchasers to simplify replacing lost tickets.

A letter from L. J. Banner expressing his desire to resign from duties as chairman of the artist committee, due to pressure of other duties, was read to the group and accepted. Mr. Banner, also chairman of the ticket committee, had been appointed to lead the artist committee to replace I. H. Reed who served in that capacity last season. No action was taken to fill the vacancy,

Fat Collection Next Saturday

The Girl Scouts will make their monthly waste fat collection next Saturday morning, which will be their sixteenth collection. To date they have collected 11,757 pounds, and they solicit the cooperation of the housewives of Sedalia in saving the fats for them, and also in leaving it out of the refrigerator so that it may be poured into the container the girls calling on them will have.

There are three specific reasons why the need for the waste grease is as acute as ever. They are:

1. Even after European victory, we will still have Japan to beat. Vast supplies of ammunition, medicines, parachutes, rubber boats, soaps and other battlefield essentials must keep on going to our fighting men in a steady stream. These all require fats to make.

2. We must help in the rehabilitation of liberated countries, such as Greece, Norway and the Netherlands, with medicines, machinery and etc.

3. Many factories now producing for war will turn to manufacturing the civilian goods we need so urgently. These factories will consume vast quantities of industrial fats.

Dry cure and brine or pickle cure are two general methods for curing meat.

Complimentary Letters From Attendants at G-C Conference

The Sedalia Garden club was recently hostess group to the convention of the West Central Region of the Federated Garden clubs of Missouri, and many complimentary letters have been received from many who attended. Attendance was so large that it overflowed the capacity of the Bothwell Ambassador room, where luncheon was served, and many Sedalia ladies were served in the Palm room to favor guests from many central Missouri towns. The Garden club committee, functioning cooperatively, were largely responsible for the success of the event.

The morning session was called to order in the county court room on the second floor of the courthouse. Baskets and vases of flowers adorned the long judge's desk and a large silk flag created a patriotic atmosphere. After welcoming addresses and responses, reports of work accomplished the past year by various clubs in this region were given by delegates. Junior Garden club work was stressed. Garden clubs of Missouri have cooperated in many phases of war work, especially in sponsoring the entire Victory Garden national program.

At 12:30 p. m., guests were ushered into the Ambassador dining room of the hotel, where the fan-shaped arrangement of the tables presented a startling unique effect. Mrs. James Atkinson, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. C. L. Carter and Mrs. H. C. Sammons and their committees planned the arrangement. Mrs. J. W. Beger used for her table grain, corn, millet, kaffir corn in wicker baskets, with bitersweet and red popcorn adding color.

Fruits were chosen by Mrs. R. T. Phelan as decoration for her table. A large wooden plaque and bowl overflowing with fruit and surrounded by persimmons and various varieties of burrs, anonymous and smilax, formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. E. L. Pulliam's arrangement was created with perfect specimens of vegetables. An antique wooden sugar bucket overflowing with vegetables extending to the end of the table. Pumpkin chariots were drawn by turkeys designed by Mrs. James Atkinson and Mrs. H. C. Sammons.

The two central tables and the speakers' table were brilliant with fall flowers—pincushion chrysanthemums, russet and gold dahlias, and marigolds.

Corsages, the handiwork of Mrs. H. C. Sammons, were presented each speaker and musician.

State President Speaker

Mrs. R. L. Larcom of Warrensburg, regional director, and Mrs. Frank S. Leach, Sedalia, vice director, presided jointly at all sessions. Mrs. Clarence Carter, president of the Sedalia Garden club, assisted in proceedings of the occasion. Favors were handmade baskets lined with leaves and filled with colored candy. Hand decorated programs were at each plate.

Mrs. F. J. Chapel, state president, in an informative address told of her visit to the national convention in Atlanta, Ga., and outlined the work of Garden clubs all over the nation. Mrs. Chapel, a former Sedalia girl, was married in this city and now makes her home in Jefferson City.

Mrs. R. O. Yowelson of St. Joseph, vice president of the state organization, spoke informally. Group singing, led by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, was greatly enjoyed.

As a climax to the occasion, Hon. Marion Bennett, Missouri congressman, spoke, telling of lovely flower gardens in Washington, D. C., as well as in Missouri, and told of the international fame of Shaw's gardens in St. Louis and the beautiful "jewel box" which attracts wide attention.

Symphony Orchestra Prepares For Tenth Concert Season

The various committees of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra society are completing final arrangements for the orchestra's tenth concert season which will open Monday night, November 13, at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium, under the direction of Abe Rosenthal, and with Vernon Sheffield, pianist, as guest artist. Mr. Sheffield is a member of the faculty of Kansas State Teachers college, Emporia.

Last week Herbert Gould, bass, head of the voice department at the University of Missouri, was engaged as the soloist for the Sedalia symphony's December concert. Other artists have been tentatively secured for the remaining two scheduled concerts of the 1944-45 season, Harry Lindstrom, president of the board of directors, said Saturday.

Studied In Vienna

Vernon Sheffield, who has given numerous piano recitals throughout the central states and has played with several orchestras, including the Oklahoma State Symphony orchestra, spent the year 1932-33 in Europe, studying in Vienna, Austria, with Edward Steuermann. He attended Simpson college, Iowa, graduating with bachelor degrees in both music and mathematics, and graduated in 1937 after a year of study at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., with the degree of Master of Arts, musicology major.

He was professor of piano and theory for two years at Hastings college, Hastings, Neb., then was at DePauw University, Green-joined the faculty of Kansas State Teachers college in June, 1937.

Response to advance subscription sales has been gratifying, according to L. J. Banner, chairman of the ticket committee. A sponsorship in the symphony may be obtained by individuals or firms through gifts of $25 or more and gifts from $5 to $20 entitle a group or person to be a subscriber. Through this method major expenditures are underwritten. No drive for funds for the symphony has been conducted in the last several years.

Civilian-Military Personnel

The orchestra personnel is one of the largest of any season, and is augmented by musicians from the Sedalia Army Air Field, a contributing factor to the success of the orchestra during the 1943-44 season when a capacity audience attended each concert.

Members of the Sedalia Symphony also play with the Air Field orchestra for concerts at the base.

The orchestra has been rehearsing since the first of September and the conductor has expressed satisfaction with the individual competence of his players and with the ensemble capacity of the orchestra. He has served as conductor since the symphony was founded ten years ago. Mrs. John M. Rodman will continue in the post of concertmaster which she has held for the last several seasons.

When The Blue Stars Turn to Gold

As I stepped on my porch this morning
Coming home to my midday lunch,
I stopped with my foot on the threshold,
And the blood thru my veins proudly rushed,
For there on the front door panel,
Three blue stars stand plainly in view,
Two sons and a son-in-law fighting,
Fighting for me and for you.

As I stood there silently thinking,
The blood in my veins became cold,
And my heart felt like it was frozen,
As I thought of the blue turning gold,
Then my thoughts went back thru the ages,
Back to a time we all love,
When a bright shining star led the wise men,
To the crib of the Christ Child above.

There is a gold star in the window,
Of God's mansion up above,
There are gold stars in the windows,
Of the homes of those we love,
Wherever there is a gold star,
There has been a hero brave,
That's gone to his home above the clouds
And in the Christ Child's arms he lays.

When the blue star turns to gold,
Then a hero's life has been told,
And his dear ones in their sadness honor him,
They can lift their eyes toward heaven,
And can gaze with consolation,
For there is a gold star in the window
Of the mansion of our God.

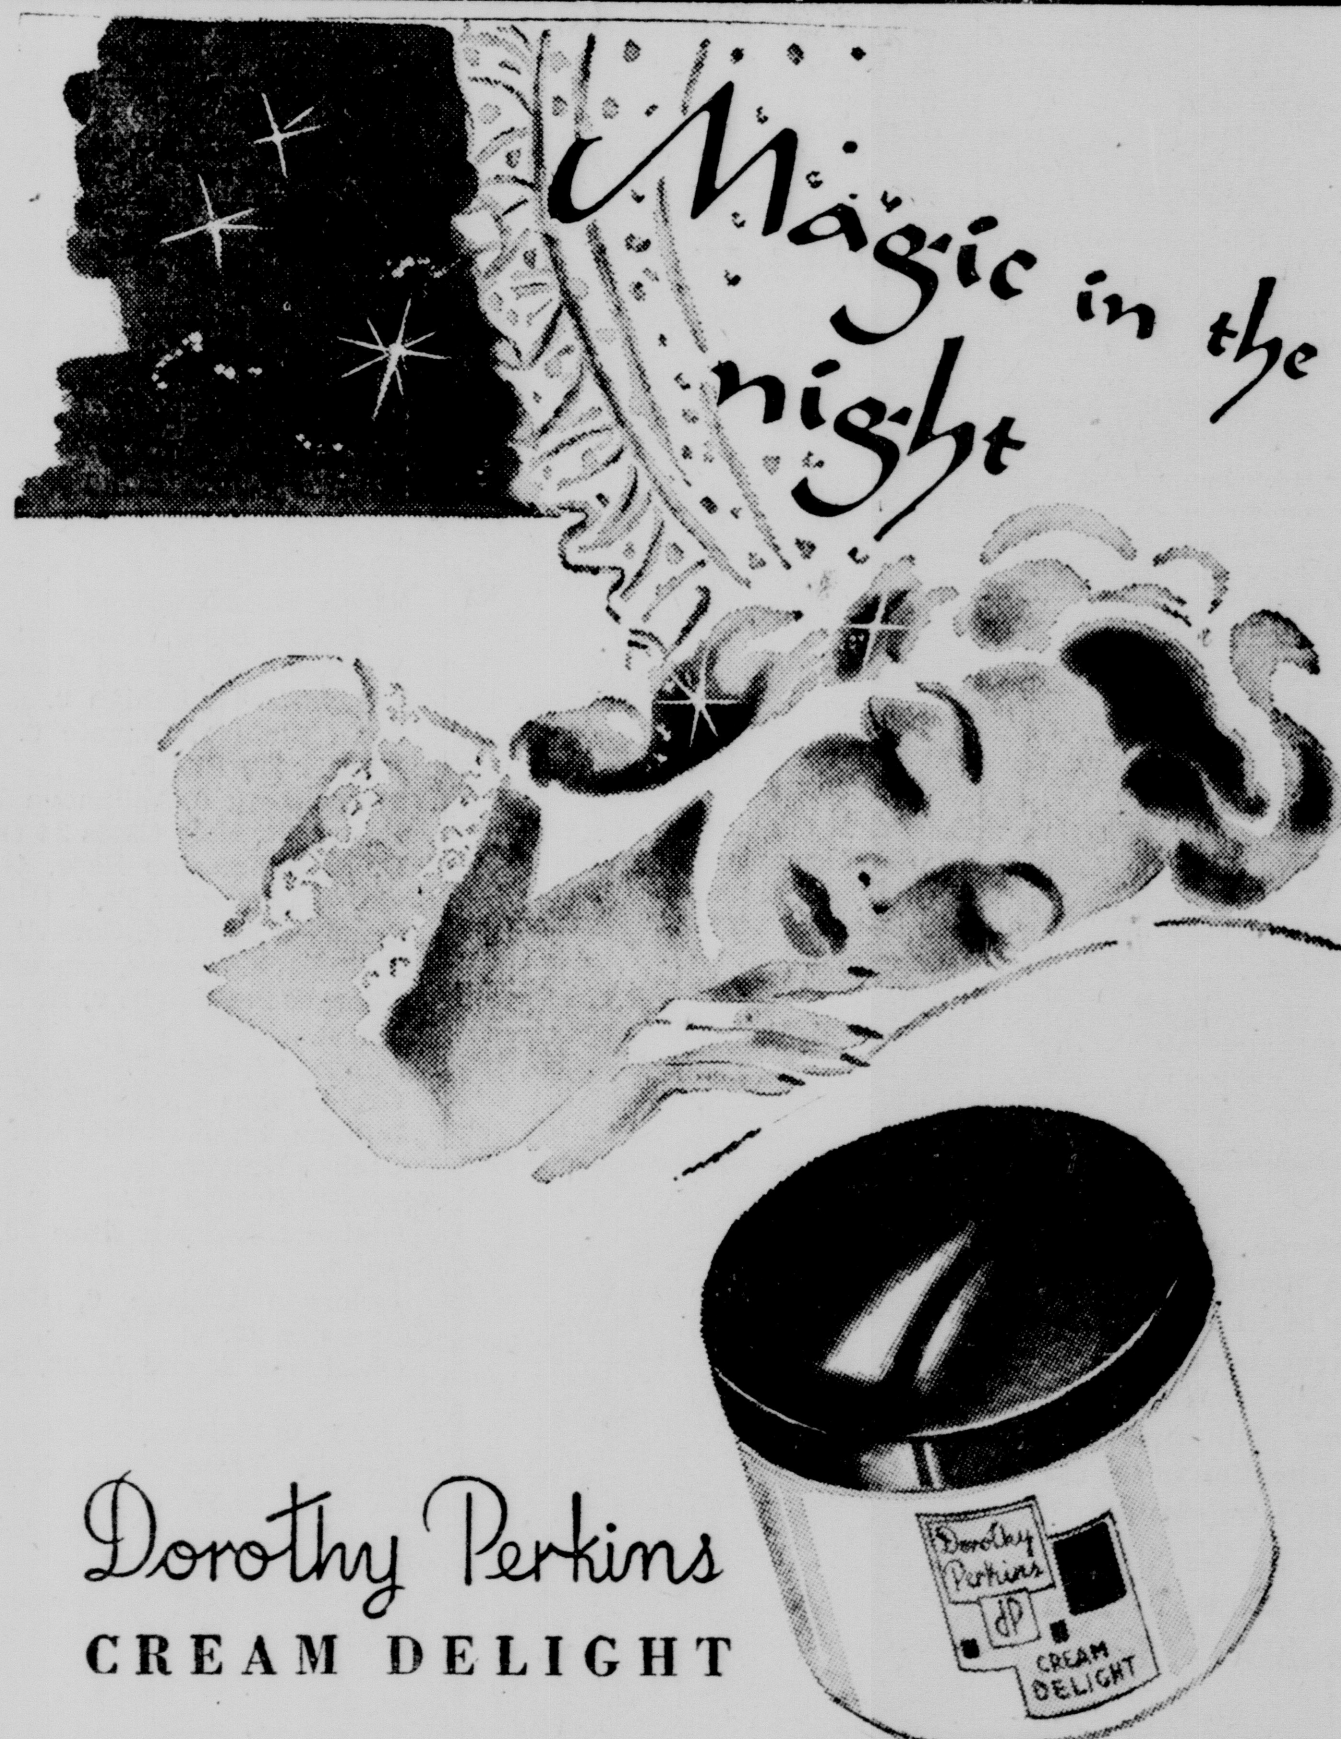

When Christ, our Holy Saviour,
Came down on earth to men,
He came as a brave noble soldier
To lessen the burden of sin.
He came as a gallant warrior,
The peoples on earth to redeem,
And paid the full price on Calvary Heights,
When he died on the Cross for our sins.

He came to open a beachhead,
For the lives and souls of men,
And to lead the rich and humble, side by side,
He came to men of all colors, races, and tribes,
"Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."
That is His battle cry.
It hasn't changed. He is still our King
Watching us from on high.

So if the blue star in our window
Should turn to a golden hue,
We will know that one of our loved ones,
Has gone to his Saviour, too,
Fighting for the peace of nations,
For the freedom of all mankind,
Fighting that you and I might live,
And our neighbors on other lands
May worship our God in their own devout way,
In the morning, the evening, or the middle of day.

And never suffer from the powers of greed,
A power that would sell the souls of men,
To purchase the things they are interested in,
But to live and to die with the blessings on high,
Until all mankind are called to their home in the sky.

Tigers Lose To Springfield Bulldogs 19-0

Bulldogs Score on a 20-Yard Run and a 40-Yard Dash

The Smith-Cotton high school Tigers met defeat at Springfield when the Springfield high school Bulldogs took the big end of the 19 to 0 score. The game resulted in two of the Tiger backfield mainstays being injured.

Springfield took advantage of the breaks, and in spite of making but three first downs during the game, came through to push across three touchdowns. The Bulldogs scored two touchdowns in the first half, and one in the second half.

Costly Tiger Fumble

After the Tigers had taken the ball on the kickoff, Johnson fumbled and it was recovered by Springfield, on Sedalia's 48 yard line. The Bulldogs made two first downs, one of which was on a 30-yard run around end by Hunt. A 5-yard pass put the ball within three yards of the goal line, and Hunt took it off tackle for the score. Their second score came in the second quarter when Capes punted to the Tiger 27-yard line. A seven yard gain and a play which netted no gain was followed by a 20-yard run by Likins across into pay dirt. Harrison kicked for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter Springfield took over the ball on their 46 yard line. A 14 yard gain through the line was made followed by a 40-yard broken field run by Dickey into the goal zone, and the six points.

Good Gains—No Score

The Tigers pushed the pigskin forward in scrimmage 41 times for 198 yards while the Bulldogs in handling the ball eleven times on forward gains tallied 176 yards. When the Tigers drives would begin, things went along smoothly until they became a little over anxious to score and they would lose the ball on fumbles, interceptions and held for downs.

Don Johnson suffered an injury to his left hip while Edgar Mehl was removed from the game because of an injury to the right knee. Mehl may have to remain out of the game the remainder of the season, it was said.

Next week the Tigers journey to Columbia where they will meet the Columbia high school Kewpies.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

JOHNNY LAYTON is returning to the Billiard tournament, and he hopes to revive his standing among the World Champions, of which he is one. Layton, holder of the three-cushion title thirteen times, was out of the game for several years, due to an injury received when struck by a street car, in Chicago in February, 1941. At the time he was participating in a tournament being held there.

Layton hasn't played much billiards since his injury, being in such condition that he could not handle his cue for nearly two years. Last December, Layton came to Sedalia and played in exhibition matches with Joe Chamaco, Mexico City, Mexico, at which time they entertained the Sedalia billiard fans. They also played exhibition matches in Kansas City, where Layton's eye was far better than on the home green.

In his exhibition matches Layton's trueness was not in evidence, his shots were erratic, and he appeared to be very nervous. But this cannot determine how bad or how good he is. The fact he was among many of his friends, who were "jibbing him" from time to time, could easily throw a man off his stride, while not in tournament play, and especially when he had nothing at stake other than showing the boys how to shoot billiards.

Personally I am confident that Layton will be alright, he may not win the title, he may be far behind the present day holder of the title, Willie Hoppe, of White Plains, N. Y., but I do believe he will be in a paying-off position and will return to Missouri with some of that $12,000 prize money, to be awarded in the tournament in New York starting December 3. This tourney is sponsored by Billiard Association of America.

I wouldn't be surprised to see Charles J. McEniry of the Smoke House, pack up his little bag and go to New York and watch his former "student" in his first real tournament since his accident. McEniry has been known to make Layton settle down and get steady when under pressure of tournament play.

I was talking with some "experts" on football the past week about some funny happenings during football games. One of them was about Eddie Hughes of Louisiana State, whose team was playing Holy Cross. The L. S. boys were trailing at the half-time period.

Hughes didn't know what to say, he had said about everything he could think of before the game, giving them that famous old "pep" talk and so on. During the half-time rest period he gathered the boys around, told them of some bad plays, and pointed out some things they might try—then without a warning burst forth saying "you're trailing boys, go after them, h— they are all Republicans!" and the L. S. boys came through to win the game.

GEORGE MACKINTOSH, sports editor of the Edmont Journal Edmont, Alberta, Canada, spoke kind words to a former Junior American Legion pitcher, "Bus" Walker in his column of September 23, in referring to a game Walker pitched. "The Edmont Yanks Manager, Wayne Adams' chummy right hander, "Al" Walker, (he is known as "Al" in the army) from the Show-Me-State of Missouri can carry at least one happy memory—A chucker with a fiery fast ball, Walker last night put the Yanks back on even footing in the Play-off by smearing the Airmen with a 2 to 0 coat of white wash and cutting them to a pair of safeties.

"From this perch it would seem the Yanks moundsman pitched one of the best games of the season, and he couldn't have selected a better spot in which to deliver. It was a win that should perk up his teammates a lot."

The game was one of which the Yanks were playing for the Provincial title and won three of five games from the Canadian Calgary Fliers. Incidentally the Yanks were defending the title won a year before.

Walker pitched in two games in the series, the 2-0 contest which he went the route, and was a relief pitcher in another, which the Yanks won.

I understand Walker's old teammate and catcher Elwood McMackin is now manager of a ball club somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. I would like to hear some reports from McMackin's team.

Won't it be a great day when those former Legion players get back home again.

Hubbard High Loses To K. C. Lincoln 19-0

The Lincoln high school of Kansas City came to Sedalia Friday night and drubbed the Hubbard high school to the tune of 19 to 0, on a slippery gridiron at Liberty Park. The visitors arrived late due to car trouble, but their hopes were far from defeat.

A team which outweighed the Sedalians to the man took charge in the first quarter and scored their first touchdown and converted the extra point, tallied again in the second quarter and opened the third stanza with another touchdown.

These two teams will meet again this season, the Hubbard aggregation to go to Kansas City on Friday November 17.

State Health Commissioner Approves Law

Operation of Marriage Statute Has Opened Many Eyes

By Glenn Williams

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 21—
(AP) — After watching Missouri's new marriage health law operate for its first nine months, Dr.
James Stewart, state health commissioner, proclaims it a big success.

One of the chief benefits of the new law—which requires premarital examinations for Syphilis —is that "it waked up a lot of people who thought they didn't have syphilis," Dr. Stewart says.
Many can be cured because the required blood tests revealed their infection in time.

Some "learned with a shock that they have syphilis," the doctor said. "They didn't even suspect it, although they may have been infected for several years."

Under the new law, no couple can obtain a marriage license until a blood test shows them free from syphilis.

Results of tests

Results of about 50,000 examinations of blood samples made since last January show that about 1.5 per cent of white applicants for marriages are infected and 10 times that many Negroes have the brain-destroying spirochetes in their blood.

Records of 38,233 tests are on file in the health department offices, the rest at branch laboratories in Sikeston and Springfield.
Of 37,773 white persons tested, 502 were definitely syphilitic and 276 classed as "doubtful." The 4,436 Negroes examined included
758 who were infected.

Stewart is still campaigning for a companion law requiring state registration of all marriages and divorces so "these figures will mean something" by permitting comparisons of the number of weddings and blood tests.

A state marriage registration bill failed of passage last year, but he predicted another will be introduced in 1945.

Would Test Babies
Stewart also favors blood tests

MUSICAL HEIGHTS were reached last week in Kansas City when a new series of Thursday evening 7 o'clock broadcasts of the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra began over KMBC. Mr.
Kurtz, conducting the orchestra for the second season, indicated that the broadcast series will endeavor to present the best of the composers' greatest works with an overall appeal when he devoted the premiere performance to the ever popular Tchaikovsky.
This latest addition to KMBC's program schedule, which already includes such brilliant offerings as the New York Philharmonic,
The Family Hour, Great Moments in Music, Andre Kostelanetz, and others, is truly an extra dividend to Heart of America music lovers.

CHANGES OF NOTE... The KMBC Texas Rangers double their pleasure production with two shows daily now—7:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. "John Nesbitt's

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday 10:15 p. m. spot to a new musical show featuring Martin Block as emcee, Johnnie Johnston and Monica Lewis, vocalists, and Paul Baron conducting a 22-piece orchestra. ... The Sunday one o'clock dramatic program, "Dangerously Yours," takes on a new name this Sunday—"The Matinee

The East Side Kids planning their mischievous antics in Monogram's new production, "Million Dollar Kid," with Noah Beery, Sr. and Louise Currie
"Million Dollar Kid" and "Crime By Night" is the double feature program for The Uptown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of babies in their first year, believing it would "help stop syphilis just like vaccinations stopped smallpox."

"If syphilis is discovered soon enough, it can be cured by modern treatment," he said. "If allowed to go on, an unsuspected infection may crop up later in the form of insanity or other disturbances of the central nervous system."

Another 1943 marriage law requiring a three-day wait between application and issuance of a marriage license is being evaded in some instances, Stewart reported.

A few Missouri officials wink at the law, he said—in most cases because the bridegroom is headed for the army and hasn't time to wait. That's one reason why Stewart would like to have state marriage license registration. He could check up on evasions.

Business Falls Off
Missouri used to catch a good bit of marriage trade from surrounding states which passed laws similar to the new Missouri statutes before the "show me" state got around to it. Two or three years ago Iowa officials were much perturbed over evasion of their pre-marital examinations by lovers who leaped the state line into Missouri for quickie weddings.

But now Gretna Green justices of the peace in Missouri have noted a falling off in business—in fact, now marriage mills are springing up in eastern Kansas to catch matrimonial fugitives from Missouri law.

After the new law was passed, weddings dropped about 35 per cent in Kansas City, Mo., and climbed about 40 per cent in Kansas City, Kas., conveniently across the border.

St. Louis, however, did not find itself in similar circumstances because nearby Illinois has a law much like Missouri's. Kansas hasn't.

Red Cross Corner

Wednesday afternoon, October 18, Mrs. E. Elliott Stafford, Jr. and Mrs. George Yeaman, of the Red Cross Staff Assistance Corps, went to the library at the SAAF, to catalogue books. This particular department, the members of which are frequently referred to as the "Georges" of Red Cross, are increasing their activities as the responsibilities of the office increase. Well trained, and specifically trained, the staff assistants are at the same time unhabituated as to duties, and virtually each member of the Corps has done her share of pinch hitting. We are naturally proud of this Corps, whose record for 1944 is a good one. At this time it is pleasant to be able to report that we have about 50 members of the staff assistant corps.

Mrs. Emmett Hurley, chairman of Home Nursing, has completed the selection of her committee, with Mrs. R. F. Hohn as co-chairman, Mrs. A. C. Bell, chairman of equipment, and Mrs. Fred Brink, and Mrs. E. J. Thomas, additional members. Monday afternoon, October 23, Mrs. A. Haiduck will begin the 12 hour streamliner, classes to be held from 1:30 to 3:30. This class is full, and no more registrations will be taken. November 6, Mrs. Hugh Jones will start her afternoon class. This class is also full. November 7, Mrs. Willard Davidson will begin work with the night class, to be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday nights, from 7:20 to 9:30. There are two vacancies in this last named class. Call ARC headquarters, 618 for registration. All classes will be held in the Armory, Broadway and Ohio.

George Yeaman, chairman of the Camp and Hospital Council, together with his committee members, Mrs. Abe Bertman and Mrs.
C. F. Fischer, went to the SAAF Friday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting of the council.
Mr. Yeaman reports that C. Cecil Owen, local Conoco distributor, has donated a very outstanding drinking fountain to be used as part of the convalescent ward equipment. Cecil's Bicycle shop has donated a bicycle wheel, which will be used for exercises by the convalescents at the Base Hospital.

Mr. Yeaman and the Pettis County Chapter are making an appeal for three further items: easy chair, a small portable phonograph and records, a clock in good working order.

Most of the readers of this column have at one time or another been in a stage of convalescence, and surely they remember the delight of sitting up for the first time. Men in uniform are no exception to this rule. It is not beyond the realms of possibility that somewhere in Sedalia there is an easy comfortable chair that is not in actual use. If you have such a chair, will you donate it to the convalescent ward of the Base Hospital? This plan goes also for the phonograph and records and most of all for a clock. We know only too well that in asking for a clock we are asking for the impossible, and we have been so fortunate with the people of Sedalia and Pettis county in regard to our requests for the boys at the SAAF, that we feel that we will succeed this time. Call the Red Cross office, 618, and they will be picked up.

We are still accepting registrations for the Red Cross First Aid class, soon to begin work. Flight Officer Eugene Glaze of the SAAF will instruct.

The following members of the Canteen will go to the Air Base
Sunday afternoon to serve refreshments to the boys in the base hospital: Mrs. Henry Niemann, Mrs.
Fred Curtis, Mrs. Frank Coffman,
Mrs. J. B. Poundstone, Mrs. Al
Fabry and Mrs. C. A. Wright.

Former Smith-Cotton Students Send Money to Teen-Age Club

Two former students from Smith-Cotton high school are still so interested in the Sedalia Teen Age club that they sent money back from the South Pacific to help support the club. These former students are J. C. Cannon and Lee Whiteman. In their letters they remarked that they thought the very best investment a fellow could make was in the youth of Sedalia. There was not any Teen Age club for them to go to, and they want to do this bit to be certain that Sedalia Teen Agers get a break and have a good recreation center.

The membership drive starts
October 23, and no one will be al-

Farm Home Is Destroyed By Fire

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas Deamon of Syracuse was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning. After Mr. Deamon had arisen, started a fire in the kitchen stove and gone to the barn to feed the stock, he glanced back at the house, attracted by smoke pouring from the doors and windows of the kitchen. He rushed back to awaken his family.

Only a few clothes were saved of the house and contents.

Reports Tools Missing

Thirty dollars worth of tools (socket wrenches) were stolen from the Engle Motors Ford Gar-rage about noon Friday. An investigation is being carried on by the

Doctors' Wives Sponsor Talks By Chicagoan

Noted Physician Makes Three Talks While in City

Public Relations day, as sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Pettis County Medical Society, with Dr. W. W. Bauer of Chicago, Ill., director of the American Medical Bureau of Education, as a guest, was observed Monday by the organization.

While in Sedalia, Dr. Bauer was a speaker at several occasions. "That's What You Think" was his subject at Smith-Cotton high school; at the Rotary luncheon he spoke on "Health for Today"; and "The Skin You Love to Retouch" was his subject at Sorosis club. It is estimated that Dr. Bauer spoke to a total of 1,500 persons while in the city.

When speaking Monday evening at a turkey dinner at the Country club for members of the American Medical association, the Auxiliary and graduate nurses, Dr. Bauer spoke in an informative manner of "Health in the Nation Today."

Many Guests
The tables were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. Mrs. A. L. Walters was in charge of the menu. Guests of the Auxiliary were Mrs. J. B. McCubbin, state president of the Auxiliary, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Haines, Dr. Nix and Dr. Kennedy, all of Marshall.

During the evening, music was furnished by Mrs. John M. Rodeman, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Salveter.

After the dinner, Mrs. D. P. Dyer, president of the Pettis county chapter, introduced officers of Pettis County Medical society, officers of the Auxiliary and guests, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Boger, who, in turn, presented Dr. Bauer, speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Boger gave recognition to those in charge of decorations, Miss Frances Trader, chairman, assisted by Mrs. M. P. Shy, Mrs. J. E. Mitchell and Mrs. E. C. Snively.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey, music chairman, led singing of "God Bless America" at the conclusion of the meeting.

Forrestal Has Report On Pearl Harbor Disaster

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal announced Friday night that he had received a report from the naval court which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster, but that the court had marked it secret.

He added that he was asking Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet, to review the report, and the records of the proceedings to determine how much must be kept secret.

Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) and others have charged that the report is being withheld from the public because of political reasons. Announcing that he was determined to force publication before the election, Maas has declared that high government officials knew of the forthcoming attack on Pearl Harbor six hours before it occurred but failed to notify Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, and Major General Walter C. Short, commanders on the scene.

Forrestal did not mention these charges in his announcement tonight. The announcement took the form of a letter to Admiral G. Orin Murphy, president of the naval court of inquiry.

Dewey Assails 'One-Man Government'

Says FDR Makes Political Capital Out Of Social Gains

By Gardner Bridge

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—(P)—Losing a new barrage at what he calls "one-man government," Thomas E. Dewey Friday night declared that President Roosevelt is trying to make political capital out of social gains which he said were initiated by Republican administrations.

The New York governor promised to expand and broaden these gains if elected.

After declaring that Democrats resent "the kidnapping of their party by the communists and the Political Action Committee," the Republican presidential nominee said in a prepared broadcast:

"It is time to face the fact that the new deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

Some Good Things

He conceded the new deal "did some good things in its youth," but declared that "now it seeks to live on its past."

"In this great national campaign," he said, "my opponent has not offered to the people of this country even the pretense of a program for the future. He tells the working men and women of America to trust him, to do as they are told and ask no questions. That is the end result under one-man government, always."

"It is the inevitable end of a philosophy which sees no real future for America. It is the result of a viewpoint that can see nothing ahead but a repetition of its own peacetime failures—a return after the war to unemployment, with leaf raking and doles."

'We Will Take Lead'

"I am sure America will never submit to that dreary prospect," he continued. "We are going forward to swift, total victory over our enemies abroad. We are going to take the lead in building a world organization for lasting peace, and here at home, we are going to establish a government which will make possible a vigorous productive economy with jobs and opportunities for all."

The New York governor, who came here from Albany for a one-man speech appearance and planned to return to the New York capital immediately, earlier expressed belief that Mr. Roosevelt's decision to campaign actively in Philadelphia, New York and other cities indicated fear of defeat.

"The natural inference," he told a press conference, "would be that Roosevelt is trying to reverse a trend which is now so strong that it indicates a Republican victory in November."

In the Service

Mrs. Glenn Shepherd of Warrensburg spent the week-end in Houstonia with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Stone. She has received word that her husband, stationed somewhere in France, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mosier, Sedalia, RFD 1, have received a letter from their son, Pvt. Francis Mosier, stating he had arrived safely in India, in a jungle section of the country where it is very hot. "What they call town," he states, "where we go to shows every night, consists of straw and wood huts."

Pvt. Mosier, who is with the medical corps, entered the armed forces April 6, 1943, and has been overseas since June 6, 1944.

This letter was the first received from him in three months.
